This land is not for sale! The Triple Canyon Ranch isn't just land to single mom Erin Monroe. It's a place her family has called home for generations, a place to raise her kids, a place where she's known love and loss. She's not about to hand it over to outsider Mac Wheeler, no matter how good the city slicker looks in those custom boots she made for him. He can find some other place for his wind farm! Years ago, tragedy made Erin close off a part of her heart for good. Mac, with his smooth talk and smoother kisses, can't possibly be the one to heal that hurt. But as Erin learns more about Mac's past, she realizes there's more to him than meets the eye. Which makes holding on to the ranch more important than ever....

High Beams on Bumpy Roads

Ken Webb draws on two diverse careers--newspaper journalism and retail car sales--as he takes you on a hilarious, sometimes bumpy, ride down his personal highway. His love affair with wheeled vehicles includes tales of a 1949 pedal car delivered by a one armed man, memories of a Ku Klux Klan parade, and a dilemma created when his old Dodge landed against a pig pen. This inspired author displays a wicked sense of humor in stories about dates in cars, speeding tickets, and his grandfather's violation while driving a Model T Ford in 1914. The pace quickens when Webb recounts challenging a Mercedes-Benz in his new BMW on a coastal highway and hits the brakes twenty fun tales later in front of a dismembered Ford in the Carolina mountains. While sold "AS IS," as car the guys say, it's a safe bet this book will create laughs as it rekindles the reader's own automotive memories. After all, doesn't everyone have a car story?

Diary of a Serial Killer

Passions flare when duty confronts ambition... Kace Jaager, former Army archaeologist, now Superintendent of Fort America National Park, has a duty to preserve and protect the natural beauty and cultural heritage of the United States. Madison Danes, ambitious CEO of Danergy Mining & Hydraulics, has a government contract to conduct fracking on federal land at Fort America National Park. Passions flare as ideologies collide. Yet uncontrollable attraction compels a truce in bed. Opposites may attract, but can they put politics aside to form a more perfect union? Resistance is an enemies-to-lovers contemporary seasoned romance with a 53-year-old silver fox hero and a 42-year-old heroine in her prime. The short novel is part of the Common Elements Romance Project, where over seventy romance authors have come together to write stories with five things in common. Stories are not connected in any way, except for having five elements: a lightning storm, lost keys, a haunted house, a stack of thick books, and a person named Max.

The beauty and tranquility of Utah's Logan Canyon never cease to amaze. Although bearing traces of human activity. Logan Canyon remains unspoiled by its proximity to civilization. Reveling in the sights and sounds of this wonderland, author Michael Sweeney journeys from the canyon's mouth al Logan northeast to Bear Lake, As he ticks off the 41 miles of the natural scenic byway that courses through the canyon, he reveals the canyon's history and a few of its secrets. He introduces us to several characters who, lucky enough to live, work, and play in the area, share their experiences of the canyon. Filled with adventure and brimming with eloquent discourse, this book is more than an account of a canyon -- it is a testimony to the utter necessity of such places in our lives and in America.
