The California Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST) and the California Department of Justice (DOJ) Field Operations staff, working with subject matter experts, have completed this telecommunications training guide which meets the mandated Federal Bureau of Investigation/ National Crime Information Center (FBI/NCIC) and DOJ training requirements. The FBI/NCIC required that training be developed to ensure that all personnel (sworn and non-sworn) i.e., terminal operators, peace officers, investigators, and agency management/supervisors are trained in the operations and policies and procedures of each file that is accessed or updated. The materials in this manual provide the required minimum levels of training for law enforcement agency employees who have access or input to the Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS) or the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) files as accessed through the California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS). This training guide, in conjunction with the DOJ's Telecommunications Train-the-Trainer Course and the CLETS/CJIS Telecommunications Workbook available from Field Operations, will provide a comprehensive training resource package for law enforcement agency trainers. These trainers will then be prepared to train their agency personnel.

behavior after imprisonment. Using a sample of comparable prisoners and probationers, the authors investigate the association between imprisonment and recidivism, estimate the amount of crime that was prevented when felons were imprisoned rather than placed on probation, and discuss the costs to the criminal justice system to achieve that reduction in crime. The findings suggest the following: (1) The prisoners had higher recidivism rates than the probationers, both across crime types and in the aggregate. However, the prisoners' crimes were no more serious than the probationers', nor was there a significant difference in the length of time before their first filed charge. (2) The prisoners committed 20 percent fewer crimes than the probationers during the three years following their convictions. (3) The criminal justice system spent about twice as much on supervising and reprocessing prisoners as it did on probationers over the three-year period.
